Family Faith starts at Home

When the COVID-19 restrictions began and we were told to shelter in place and remain at home, I felt we were given a precious opportunity to recognize that the faith we share and hope to impart to our children is BEST LIVED AT HOME!

Consider the following statements from the book
DEVOTIONS for SACRED PARENTING by Gary Thomas

“Chaos surrounds our kids. They need to see how we, overwhelmed by life, find security and hope in a God who is greater than we are, and how we strive to live unselfishly, even sacrificially when need be, to seek first the kingdom of God.”

Proverbs 14:26 tells us,

“Whoever fears the LORD has a secure fortress, and for their children it will be a refuge”
What a beautiful promise!!

*“Heavenly Father, one of our highest aims is that our children would see you and your ways as a refuge, a shelter, a shield. Give us a new thirst for righteousness, help us grow in holiness, and help us to make faith a compelling invitation that our kids can’t wait to receive for themselves.
In Jesus’ name, amen.”*

Please know that we are praying for your family in the midst of this difficult time.
